COURSE STRUCTURE

This movie-based event is based around a three-part drama that examines the essential learning for entry level cybersecurity awareness. It tells the captivating story of a new employee who posts her new job on LinkedIn, unaware that hackers are targeting exactly that sort of post. She gets hit with a ransomware attack on her new work laptop. She tries to sort things out with the help of her old boyfriend who is something of a geek - which causes some discomfort for her current boyfriend ... who isn't.

Each section concludes with short examinations that help embed the learning.

This is one of our best sellers and has been included as a mandated roll out for one of the big four UK banks to all global employees.

Sold in sets of 10 as a minimum. Discounts for 15 or more.
